Swiss Parliament delegation visiting New Zealand and Australia

With thanks to the Embassies in Wellington and Canberra for the information and pictures supplies. Ed.

It was against the backdrop of rising interest on the part of Swiss politicians in the strategic importance of the Asia-Pacific region that a delegation from the Council of States Foreign Affairs Committee (FAC-S) visited Singapore, New Zealand and Australia between 6 and 13 April. The delegation was led by the Committee Chairman and Vice-President of the Organisation of the Swiss Abroad, Filippo Lombardi (CVP/TI), and comprised of Thomas Minder (Ind./SH), Philipp Müller (FDP/AG), Daniel Jositsch (SP/ZH) and Damian Müller (FDP/LU). A key aim of the visit was to foster contacts with the numerous Swiss businesses and large community of Swiss nationals living in the region.

Arriving from Singapore, the delegation was received at the New Zealand House of Representatives in Wellington by senior government officials. The Swiss delegation discussed with its New Zealand counterparts a number of topics in the field of international relations, security and trade. It raised, however, also the only controversial issue in the otherwise excellent relationship between the two countries: New Zealand’s policy of deducting Swiss AHV (social security) pensions from the New Zealand ‘Superannuation’. It was made clear to both opposition and government parties that Switzerland looks forward to a reform of New Zealand legislation removing this stumbling block. The issue was also at the centre of the delegation’s encounter with the leaders of the 7000 strong Swiss community in New Zealand organised by the Embassy. More on this topic can be found on the CSA-Oceania website: www.csa-oceania.org

On its next stop in Canberra, the delegation met with representatives from the Australian parliament and the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade and the Department of Home Affairs. Talks focused on Australia’s role in the region and political and economic relations with the USA and China, as well as the geopolitical importance of the Pacific region and its islands. The delegation was also interested in Australia’s efforts to promote free trade and in its immigration and refugee policy in a context of global migration challenges. During their time in Sydney and Melbourne, the delegation had the opportunity to meet the finance ministers of the states of New South Wales and Victoria, and held talks with representatives from Swiss businesses about the economic framework.

PNG: Deadly Earthquake
On 26 February, the Highlands of Papua New Guinea were hit by the strongest earthquake (7.5) since 1922. For thousands of people life changed. No drinking water, destroyed gardens, road and houses, hundreds of people injured and about 150 lives were lost.
Slowly the chain of first aid relief started. Our traumatised church workers were evacuated. Some weeks ago a pastoral team of the Evangelical Brotherhood Church visited the Tari and Kopiago site providing 6 water tanks, two tons of nails for rebuilding their homes and food. The act of love was well received, but aftershocks haven’t stopped, the fear is still there! John Alt

Some remember the film ‘More than honey’ by Markus Imhoof. He shows the importance of bees and the threats they face. This year for the first time on 20 May was International Bee Day. The value of bees and the danger they face is recognised and hopefully this little busy workers will be more protected. Three Embassies in Canberra keep bees: Slovenian, Swedish and Swiss – the three S’s are also the three B’s! Bruno Ehrensperger from Bruno’s Truffles in Mawson is a passionate bee-keeper too. Only at his place can you find a variety of real Swiss bread in Canberra! The Swiss community has been privileged – for years Bruno generously donated bread for the Fondue night and for the National Day Celebration. He deserves a big thank you!
